

PRIVATE SINGING HEALTH

Hi Singing students and parents,

Can all students be aware that if you have any concerns about having any contagious illnesses at any stage it is always best not to come to your private lesson.

This is because most contagious illnesses can be spread through the air. When you are in such a small area like a singing room and you are opening your mouth wide, the chances of spreading your illness is greatly increased.

So for the health of other students in the school and teachers we ask that you do not return to Centrestage until you have written clearance from your doctor.

If you are in any doubt please call us to discuss. When we move closer to the colder months we will see more colds and sore throats amongst students so we have to be careful we contain illnesses as much as possible.

Also I request that students do not share drink bottles as this is a very instant method of passing on any germs that may be present. Here's to a healthy 2012.

Cheers – Ian (Feb 13th 2012)